GM Tech,

It's time to build and meet fellow builders! You have been selected to participate in the Yellow Hackathon 2025 – India Edition, hosted by BizThon, happening on 24–25 September at IIT Delhi.

This year, we received an overwhelming number of applications from brilliant builders across India. After careful review, you've been selected as one of the few to join us for this special hackathon, a celebration of innovation, collaboration, and creativity.

As spots are limited, your confirmation is important. If, for any reason, you are unable to attend, please inform our team at the earliest. This ensures another deserving builder gets the opportunity to be part of the Yellow Hackathon experience.
